

TUTOR CERTIFICATE 2023

Thomas Julsgaard

On behalf of Aalborg University in Copenhagen, we hereby certify that Thomas has served as a tutor to our new students during the study start of 2023.

A tutor is a student at Aalborg University in Copenhagen who volunteers to help the university welcome and support new students. Prior to the study start the tutor attends two seminars with topics such as ethical considerations of volunteer work, how to offer good support, and how to cope with the cultural differences students may encounter.

At the study start, the tutor has the role of being a host, organiser, and partaker in events and activities. The tutor supports new students in the academic, social, and practical aspects of being a student at Aalborg University in Copenhagen.

Through volunteering as a tutor, Thomas has contributed to making the study start of 2023 at Aalborg University in Copenhagen a good experience to our many new students from all over the world.
